StolenSpace is proud to present the inaugural show from The Typographic Circle; a collective of artists and a newly developing movement within the urban art world.

The cohesion between the artists is a desire to make work that explores the boundaries of typographic design, within the contexts of both studio work and in-situ wall painting.

Taking the placement, attitude and quest for individual style and originality from the graffiti world and mixing it with the constraints of type-making and type-setting, and accessibility and expression of the written word to create a new aesthetic and approach.
